

How things have changed over time ...

Summer 1995 – evening spent taking apart VW Thing carburetor with hubby for the millionth time.

Summer 2019 – evening spent crawling on hardwood floors with hubby looking for a screw smaller than an ant's anus that fell on the ground while you were replacing an iPhone battery.

I liked 1995 better.